NOTIFICATION

It has come to our notice that despite regular attendance by some students, others have been irregular in attending classes in the Assamese, Sociology, and Performing Arts departments of the PG Course at Auniati University. This irregularity may lead to difficulties when filling out university final examination forms.

In light of this, we request the department coordinators to take immediate action to ensure regular attendance by all students. We also strongly advise students from all three departments to attend classes regularly, as this is crucial for their academic future.

Please note that students must meet the minimum attendance requirement of 75 percent at all levels. Failure to comply may result in students being ineligible to sit for the final examination. In such cases, the university authorities will not be held responsible.

We emphasize the importance of regular attendance and expect your cooperation in this matter.
